Super Sentences! "The tiger who came to tea" (Tuesday)

These simple sentences are dull! The author kept on using "said". Add more powerful verbs instead of just "said". We want super sentences!

There was a knock at the door. Mum said loudly that it couldn't be the milkman, as he came that morning. Sophie said quietly that she would open the door. The tiger said hello and said that he was said and hungry. Mum said that she was busy and went upstairs. Sophie said the tiger could eat the food on the table. The tiger said he wanted some tea. The tiger got on the tap and drank all the water! Sophie was cross and said that he had to get off. Mum said that Daddy would be back soon. The tiger cried and said he was sorry. Finally, he left.
