

Bored, not sure what to do? Here are some other exciting and interesting things to do over the Easter Break...

Cooking, children love cooking, even if it's something simple like making their own sandwich, it helps them to learn about measuring and following instructions.

Visit the park or go for a walk, talking about what you see will help children to learn about the world around them.

Why not visit the Sue Bramley Children's Centre, they have a range Easter Events on during the holidays.

Get children to write a postcard and send it to their teacher at school.

We'd love to here about all the things you get up to and we can use the post cards in our Journeys topic after half term.

Plant your own seeds and watch them grow. All you need is a pack of seeds like cress or runner beans, pop them on some wet cotton wool or kitchen towel and watch them grow. Draw a picture of what they look like each day and don't forget to tell us all about it when you get back to school.

What ever you do, have a restful, safe and happy holiday, and we look forward to seeing you after the break.
